

THE CHANGING ROLES OF LAWYERS IN THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH

A Symposium Sponsored by Pace Law School and the Council on International Affairs of the Association of the Bar of the City of New York

Chaired by

Mark R. Shulman, Assistant Dean, Pace Law School and
James R. Silkenat, Partner, Arent Fox PLLC; Chair, Council on International Affairs of the New York City Bar; and former Chair, ABA Section of International Law
City Bar's Great Hall, Wednesday, May 10, 2006, 4:00 p.m. – 6:30 p.m.
42 West 44th Street, New York, New York

I. Where Does the President Get His Advice on International Law?

Moderator, David Andrews, Former Legal Advisor to U.S. Secretary of State

- Richard B. Bilder, Foley and Lardner-Bascom Professor Emeritus, University of Wisconsin Law School; Member of 1988 ILA/ASIL Joint Committee on the Role of the Legal Advisor in the U.S. Department of State
- Nicholas Rostow, General Counsel, State University of New York System; former General Counsel and Senior Policy Adviser to the U.S. Permanent Representative to the United Nations; former Special Assistant for National Security Affairs; and former Legal Adviser to the National Security Council
- William H. Taft IV, Counsel, Fried Frank; former Legal Advisor to the U.S. Secretary of State

II. Is the Advice of a Government Lawyer Binding?

Moderator, Stephen J. Friedman, Dean, Pace Law School; former SEC Commissioner

- Charles J. Cooper, Partner, Cooper & Kirk; former Assistant Attorney General, Office of Legal Counsel, U.S. Justice Department
- Walter Dellinger, Douglas B. Maggs Professor of Law, Duke University; former U.S. Solicitor General; former Assistant Attorney General, Office of Legal Counsel, U.S. Justice Department; author of the Principles to Guide the Office of Legal Counsel
- Philip Allen Lacovara, Special Counsel, Mayer Brown Rowe & Maw; Practitioner-in-Residence, Pace Law School; and former Counsel to the Watergate Special Prosecutor

For additional information, please contact:

Mark R. Shulman at (914) 422-4338 or MShulman@law.pace.edu

Members of the public are welcome. There is no charge to attend for this Symposium.